INDIANFIELD
Near Pinopolis, Berkeley County, South Carolina

Owner: Santee-Cooper Hydroelectric and Navigation Project

Date of erection: Early nineteenth century

Present condition: Very poor; in danger of inundation

Description:

Two stories; hipped roof, with pitches illustrating the progressive lowering of roof up to the classic revival; three hipped-roof dormers on front and one at either end, lighting attic space.

The plan is simple, consisting of four rooms, two on each floor, separated by a hall. The chimneys occur on the rear wall.

What fragments of interior finish remain show it to have been simple, well designed, late Georgian trim as is seen in older houses in the lower part of Berkeley County.
